Replacing fastening screws on the clutch pressure plate

Dear Mr.

The high quality of our vehicles over their entire service life is one of the core values of the Porsche brand and contributes significantly to the fascination for our products. To ensure the reliability of our vehicles in the long term, we carry out continuous quality analyses.

During these analyses, we have discovered that the clutch pressure plate used with the single-mass flywheel in your vehicle does not currently meet this high quality standard.

The fastening screws on the clutch pressure plate can loosen over the service life of the vehicle due to vibrations in the drive train. If this happens, you may notice a change in the clutch pedal pressure point.

To ensure that you continue to enjoy safe and reliable driving in your Porsche, we would ask you therefore to allow us to correct this defect by replacing the fastening screws on the clutch pressure plate with screws that have an additional coating of screw locking lacquer.

Please contact your preferred Porsche Centre as soon as possible so we can arrange to have the necessary work completed as a priority. This work will be carried out free of charge and should take around 5 hours.

As you will appreciate we wish to contact all owners of affected vehicles. Therefore, should you no longer own the vehicle referred to above, it would greatly assist us in the important task of tracing and informing the new owner/keeper if you could kindly call the Porsche Customer Assistance Centre on 03457 911 911 to confirm that you have sold the vehicle and provide the new owner/keeper details if you have them. We can then redirect our correspondence to the correct address.
